

In order to change the network type to 4G only, login to the router and navigate to Basic setup -> WAN Service and click Edit on the LTE profile as shown below.

D-Link DWR-956M Home Gateway

Basic Setup > WAN Service

WAN Name	Interface	Mode	IP Protocol Type	Service Type	Edit/Delete
DHCP_WAN_ETH	ETH	DHCP	IPv4	TR069_INTERNET_VOIP	Edit	Delete
PPPoE_WAN_ETH	ETH	PPPoE	IPv4	TR069_INTERNET_VOIP	Edit	Delete
LTE	USB	DHCP	IPv4	TR069_INTERNET_VOIP	Edit	Delete

Set New WAN

Interface:

Mode:

Once you have clicked edit, scroll down and click Advanced Settings

D-Link DWR-956M Home Gateway

Basic Setup > WAN Service

WAN Service

Connection Name:

Enable:

MTU:

IP Protocol Type:

NAT:

Firewall:

IPv4 Static DNS:

MAC Address Override:

Enable VLAN:

Service Type:

Advanced Settings

In the advanced settings, navigate to 'Network' and select '4G only', and enter the PIN code, if the SIM is PIN locked.

D-Link DWR-956M Home Gateway

▶ Status
Quick Setup
▼ Basic Setup
 WAN Service
 ▶ LAN
 ▶ Wireless
▶ Advanced Setup
▶ Applications
▶ Management

Advanced Settings

PIN:

APN:

DialNumber:

Dial UserName:

Dial Password:

NetWork:

DHCP Option 60 Setting:

DHCP Option 66:

DHCP Option 120:

Bound Ports: LAN1 LAN2 LAN3 LAN4
 SSID1 SSID2 SSID3 SSID4
 SSID5 SSID6 SSID7 SSID8

A grey out port means it has been bound.

Apply Back Refresh

After this is done, scroll down and click apply. After these settings have been changed, please reboot the router (Turn it off, and then on again) so that the changes can take effect.